Thane-based Helo Health (Adarsa Pvt Ltd), a medtech company founded by industry veterans, has raised seed round from ah! Ventures Angel Platform. The startup boasts extensive expertise in developing, launching, and scaling product-based solutions.

The company's inception was driven by the vision of "diagnostics for all," harnessing unique and innovative solutions empowered by advanced technologies. Their flagship creation is a portable diagnostics solution capable of measuring 51 parameters and delivering instant results within a range of 6 seconds to 20 minutes.

Helo Health has curated a robust pipeline and anticipates revolutionising medical diagnostics in the country with its state-of-the-art multi-parametric diagnostics solution. This round of funding is pivotal, enabling crucial appointments, channel establishment, and market foothold," stated Sandeep Bhatia, Managing Director & Founder.

Helo Health has garnered grants, funding, and approvals from renowned institutions such as RIIDL, Somaiya University, Shiv Nadar University AIC, BIRAC and Niti Aayog.
