

Monsanto felicitated for employing differently-abled people

08 December 2014 | News | By BioSpectrum Bureau

Monsanto felicitated for employing differently-abled people

This is the second year in a row Monsanto has received this award.

Every year the Software Technology Parks of India (STPI) and the Government of Karnataka come together to recognize IT/ITES companies under various categories of excellence as a part of their coveted 'IT Export Awards'.

The awards have been in existence for the past 15 years to promote growth and desirable business/people processes in this fastest growing industry of the country.

The Bangalore-based Shared Services Centre (SSC) of Monsanto started operations in 2005 and has grown from a 7-member team to more than 100 members, providing services across ~50 countries where Monsanto has operations.